

Coloring Your Personality: The Spectrum of the Self

Have you been Green with Envy, ever felt a little Blue? Looking at the world through rose colored glasses?

This workshop is truly for everyone!

This workshop will provide participants the opportunity to perform some self exploration using tools and group activities that will bring understanding to their True Color personality type.

Knowing your personality type and how you deal with stress and communication will help you better work with others. To "Know Thyself" is a step in making for better leaders, better teams and successful projects.

What is True Colors? A simple tool of personality identification that can improve communication through recognition of a person's true character by utilizing the colors of orange, green, blue and gold to differentiate four basic personality types. This presentation will provide better understanding of our own personality quirks, enhance awareness of others and provide skills to recognize the values, joys, strengths, stresses and frustrations of each color group.

Anthony Nelson, CI and CT

Originally from Indianapolis, Indiana, Anthony moved to Central Ohio in 1996 and promptly started the interpreter training program at Columbus State Community College, graduating in 1999. He has been a certified interpreter since 2002 from the Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf (RID). Anthony is also a certified True Colors facilitator.
